

COOPI PRESENCE IN THE COUNTRY

Since 2004, COOPI has been present in Sudan, where it implemented development and humanitarian assistance interventions and supported the most vulnerable groups, afflicted by conflicts and disasters related to natural hazards, including refugees, displaced persons and host communities. At first, COOPI operated in North Darfur; while later on, in 2019, it expanded its presence to eastern Sudan - Kassala and Gedaref - and the capital Khartoum.

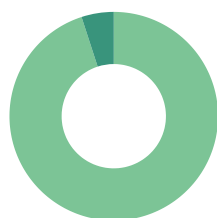

Over the years, COOPI adopted a multi-sectoral and integrated approach, which led to a considerable improvement and access to basic services with programmes dedicated to Shelter and Non-Food Items, Food Security and Livelihoods, WASH and Disaster Risk Reduction in the states of North Darfur, Kassala and Khartoum.

COOPI is currently actively engaged in the humanitarian emergency supporting the population affected by the conflict that broke out on April 15th, 2023 between the Armed Forces and the Rapid Support Forces.

COOPI IN SUDAN TODAY

The outbreak of the civil war in Sudan led to a restructuring of COOPI's interventions in the country and changed its geographical presence. The large number of displaced persons caused by the civil war makes Sudan the number one country in the world for the number of displaced persons, approximately 10 million of whom have fled to safer areas of the country or abroad.

COOPI activated a rapid emergency response, providing humanitarian assistance to the displaced mainly through WASH and non-food items (NFIs) activities by distributing drinking water and basic necessities such as blankets, small cooking utensils, water containers, plastic sheeting and ropes, to set up temporary shelters while waiting for IDP sites.

In the field, COOPI's work is carried out in a coordinated manner with other humanitarian actors in the country to integrate the various humanitarian emergency management interventions.

AREAS IN WHICH COOPI WORKS IN THE COUNTRY

For security reasons, COOPI has currently closed its office in Khartoum, but its humanitarian assistance continues in the capital. COOPI opened a coordination office in Port Sudan and has its operational base in the Gedaref area - UmRakuba and Tuneydba refugee camp. COOPI also operates through its own local staff and with the support of other national partners in North Darfur - El Fasher.

COOPI's territorial presence in the country follows the evolution of the conflict, and additional operational bases will be soon set up in River Nile State.

COOPI DEVELOPMENT LINES IN SUDAN

The priority in the development of COOPI's activities in Sudan is to further increase the capacity to respond to humanitarian emergencies in the country; in particular, COOPI collaborates with teams capable of moving frequently, who can activate humanitarian assistance interventions very quickly in different areas, following the course of the conflict and the multiple natural disasters afflicting the country. The main areas of interventions will remain emergency WASH and NFIs distribution.

COOPI is strengthening its partnership with local organisations, such as the United Peace Organisation (UPO), with which it is already actively implementing project management activities in Khartoum. Local partners are also strategically important to reach areas where access is limited due to security reasons. In terms of geographical distribution, COOPI intends to further strengthen its presence in Gedaref and North Darfur and also to further develop activities in River Nile and Northern State.
